ARTHUR WOODLANDS

TALE
AND THE PRECIOUS
MOMENTS

I AM EARTH • ALL ITS BLUE • AND I WALK IN GREEN • AND SAND OF TIME • THE WEIGHT OF A STONE • WITH THOUGHTS SO WHITE • I AM THE DARK • LIGHTS OF FIRE

Heart of Earth

*Tale
and the Precious Moments*

*For my great teachers for those lucky ones
still feeling something fair
in their heart
And, for those blessed still, believing to a natural wisdom beyond our understanding
A small bow, that lies, under thy feet*

HEART OF EARTH

Welcome! The novel is a tale, within many tales. It is also a collection of poems with great rhymes, and small poetic stories, each of its own artwork. There are riddles, and hidden puzzles, and stories below others, that hide others.

This is a book of poetry, and still much more. It is an adventure, and you will be the hero. You will fall in love, Romeo you are; you will lose all, everything you have; and rise again and grow your soul – just to fall, again? Will you die, or survive?

You will have to collect the pieces and elements forming you, walk all the world to find yourself, 'up to mountains, green valleys, down coastline and seaside, dive and rise, and survive'. There is a war, game of love, and devil always waiting on a path of shadows. Then, there is a grey casual life, and all wonders of the huge world. And, you in the middle, walking and fighting through, till finally earth falls ... onto your arms. How will you survive? Enjoy, the finest form of written language, poetry.
