

Contents

Foreword 9

Prologue 11

I Introduction 12

II Changing Faces of Migration 17

Why Definitions? 17

Finns Abroad 18

European Post-War Migration 19

Research Review 20

Previous Studies about Finns in Sweden 20

Research concerning Second Generations of Immigrant Finns 22

III Research Process 24

Cornerstones of Ethnography 24

Methods and Considerations 26

Discourse Analysis 26

Fieldwork 30

Fieldwork Periods and Participants 30

How to Conduct a Good Interview? 34

About Ethics in Ethnography 36

About Entering and Leaving the Field(s) 37

Interviews: Places, Questions and Methods 38

Transcription of Vernacular and Dialects, Imitations and Accents 40

Research Steps 44

Starting the Search Engine 45

Learning to Use the Tool, Detours on the Way 48

Locating Landmarks, Finding Paths, and Orientation 49

Zooming Down, Dwelling in: 2004, 2005, 2006 51

IV Language and Communities in the Construction of Finnishness 53

Growing up in a Family Speaking a Minority Language 55

Going to School 63

Sport Communities 71

Extraordinary Feelings 75

Humour and Joking 79

Functional and Emotional Values of Language(s) 82

Finnish in the Family 84

The Problem of 'I love you' 87

Is Language Essential for an Ethnic Identity? 90

Dual Identities Linked to Languages? 93

Responsibility to Maintain a Language 97

'To Get a Language for Free' 99

V Being Different 102

Sounding Different 103

Looking Different 107

Ethnicity and Ethnic Identity 109

Who is an Immigrant? 111

Second Generation of Immigrants? 115

Sweden's Finns? 118

Being Different 122

VI What is Finnishness? 129

A Place Called Finland 130

Visits Beyond Family Holidays 132

Roots 134

Finnishness as Bravery 138

Social Awkwardness? 141

Are We Talking about Finnishness? 147

VII The End 149

Kaleidoscopic Identities 149

Changing Contents 150

Finnishness as Language 152

Finnishness as Difference 155

Feeling and Being 156

Reliability, Responsibilities and Research Practices 157

My Contribution 160

Bibliography 163

Subject Index 170