Special thanks to

Lari Weck and Katja Taskinen.

You made all of this possible work.

Thank you from my heart!

Mostly I need
some sun
and good shoes to tread on this beautiful world
Sometimes it is enough
when you're just there

You have tamed me into your life
Don't be surprised of my behavior
watching you
I tilt my head
like a fox cub
digging deeper under your arm
to wait your petting
And the world
is a better place again

For each of my days
I need my dose of nature
The soul gets new dimensions
when I breathe deeply in the woods
Now I'm fine again

Colorful lilies
stars and fairies
are more important in my world
than political news Shooting stars more spectacular than global economic forecasts Incredible Northern Lights more credible than the vague election pledges Cat paw
and dog lacing more welcoming
like activity bracelets

You're talking quietly
You extend your hand
I can see through your eyes
that you are serious
I'm confused

That little woman
in my heart is happy
for all this attention
It dances violently
flamenco on the table
I only dare to nod gently

That day
your eyes shone like the stars
I stayed to collect star rain

The joy ignites immediately
when you open my door lock If it was not you
who would be now next to me?

Many days without your scent
makes me blue
a little bit crazy
Defective
Incomplete
When you come to me
I have again
been snooping you
Kissed
Loved
myself full
I'm happy again

Would you come with me
in the evening
to look at the red moon
on the blanket to sit next to me
A glass of bubbling to enjoy
Fall in love with summer nights
