A Declaration for the Life beyond Death and Fragments of What's to Come

Jori-Ville Rahkonen (b. 1988 e.v.) is a Finnish poet and lyricist whose works are vastly inspired by esoteric works, especially those of Aleister Crowley, not excluding other sources of inspiration such as Necronomicon, various mythologies such as those of Egypt and Greece, and symbolism in general.

In this first publication of NEW AEON POETRY subtitled "Solar Chaos Brings Forth Fortitude" you can read 82 poems in total, 33 poems in Finnish and 49 poems in English, that have been written during one incarnation under the name Jori-Ville Rahkonen, under various pseudonyms or under No Name at all.

Jori-Ville Rahkonen, the Chaos Effect Operator (CEO) of NEW AEON POETRY defines his own personal New Aeon Poetry -material as "Core Poetry", without going into specifics into what this actually means, and through these poems the readers may define themselves the description to be accurate or not.
